DEMOCRACY VS. SOCIALISM IS THE BIG ISSUE

IN THE COMING MINNESOTA PRIMARY ELECTION SAID J. A. O. PREUS, REP. NOMINEE

SOCIALIST CONTROLLED NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE IS TRYING TO DESTROY AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS
(By United Press)

St. James, Minn., June 3—J. A. O. Preus, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, in a speech here this afternoon declared the Non-partisan league is trying to destroy the foundation of the American government.

"June 21 will determine whether the republican party shall remain republican or become a socialist party," said Mr. Preus.

"Socialism sprung out of Russia and is endeavoring to embrace in its grasp the entire world. The red, the radical, the socialist and organizers of the Nonpartisan league, who are socialists, are working on the common purpose to destroy the foundation of our government, which is property rights, religion and home.

"The republican nominee selected on May 8 to oppose Townley and the socialist organizations in Minnesota, are but an incident in this campaign. The principle of the republican form of government vs. socialism is the burning question.

"To have on the platform and on that ticket Corporal Louis L. Collins of the 151st, is the best proof that the soldiers of the great struggle in which the allies were victors, prefer republicanism to socialism and in Mr. Collins we contrast with the opposition the spirit which during the war was manifest among republicans and which was wanting among socialists, a welcome to fight for the country, preserve institutions of this nation and carry them across the seas to peoples less happy than we."

Mr. Preus also speaks at Madelia this afternoon and then leaves for Mankato where he will deliver his keynote speech tonight. A big Friday night meeting will be held at Farmington. Meantime he will speak at a dozen cities in southern Minnesota.

HAROLD JACOBS
(Staff Correspondent United Press.)

Religious Belief About Dove.
The people of northern Europe used to say that the ring dove (a partly domesticated bird well known to them) perched near the cross when Jesus was dying, and wailed out its sorrow, to alleviate the sufferings of him who was crucified. A dove with six wings is one of the types of the Church of Christ.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN SATURDAY

SENATE PASSES JOINT RESOLUTION 44 TO 24 PREVIOUSLY PASSED BY HOUSE
(By United Press)

Washington, June 3—Congress will adjourn finally next Saturday at 4 P. M.

Action necessary to assure adjournment was taken today when the senate passed a joint resolution previously passed by the house. The senate vote was 44 to 24. It was taken after several proposed amendments to have congress recess for a month or more instead of adjourning, were defeated. Shortly before the senate voted, Senator Underwood, democratic leader, announced President Wilson had informed him he had no objections to adjournment now and would not call congress into extra session except in case of grave emergency.

California Senator and His Pennsylvania Colleague for Whom He Denies He's Only Stalking Horse Race for Nomination

Senator Philander C. Knox

Senator Hiram W. Johnson

Wall Street bettors evidently believe Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, when he denied as ridiculous the report that he is a political stalking horse for Senator Philander C. Knox in the race for the Republican presidential nomination. "There is just one fight that I have been making—a fight for myself," said Senator Johnson. "I have no agreement, tentative or otherwise, with any one, nor do I intend to make any." The first odds posted in New York's financial district made the California senator the favorite at 8 to 5, with General Leonard Wood second choice at 2 to 1.

(By United Press)

Washington, June 3—President Wilson will probably decide today whether he will take any steps to keep congress from carrying out its plan of adjournment Saturday, it was stated at the White House.

NEW VERSION OF WOOD MILLION DOLLAR FUND

SAYS WOOD WAS PRESENT AT MEETING WHERE MEANS TO RAISE IT WAS DISCUSSED
(By United Press)

Washington, June 3—A new version of the origin of the so-called "million dollar campaign fund" of Major General Leonard Wood was given the senate campaign expenditure committee today by Charles H. Duell, of Yonkers, N. Y., lawyer. Ambrose Monell, who in previous testimony was named as a large contributor to the Wood fund, was author of a plan for the million dollar fund, according to Duell, who said he was associated with the campaign in its early days.

Robert Cassett, Duell said, was asked to undertake to raise the fund at a conference in November, 1918, between Duell, Monell and Cassett. Cassett said he was too busy and declined. Duell said Gen. Wood himself also attended this conference when the raising of the fund was discussed. A. A. Sprague, national treasurer for Wood, previously told the committee Wood knew nothing of the financial side of the campaign.

Cities Gave Names to Fabrics.
About the year 1329 the woolen trade of England became located at Worsted, about 15 miles from Norwich, and it was at this place that the manufacture of the twisted double thread woolen, afterwards called worsted, was first made. If not invented, Lincey-worsted was first made at Lincey, and was for a long time a very popular fabric. Kerseyware takes its name from the village of Kersey, and the mere close by it in the county of Suffolk.

Vast Size of the Sun.
It may surprise many people to learn that the sun, which is by no means a large star, as stars go, could easily contain within its boundaries the entire earth and moon and also the distance between them. In fact, three systems like that consisting of earth and moon could be strung out in a row through the center of the sun, without coming within 50,000 miles of his surface on either side.

Wedding Ring Once Barred.
The Puritans of the seventeenth century used no ring at the wedding ceremony, as they considered it "a pagan symbol and superstitious emblems." All that they required was that the man and woman should join hands when stating their purpose to live together in wedlock.

As She Saw the Elephant.

Two Marines were slightly injured last night when the police battled 150 sailors in an effort to prevent the storming of the Sherman House, a Negro hotel here. The jackies poured over a ravine where they had mobilized. A sailor carrying an American flag led the attack.

Police held them off with riot guns until a detachment of Marines from the training station arrived.

JOHNSON PLANS WHIRLWIND FINISH

ARRIVES IN CHICAGO AND BECOMES CENTRAL FIGURE OF BIG CONTEST
(By United Press)

Chicago, June 3—Hiram Johnson took his turn today as the central figure of the pre convention fight for the republican presidential nomination.

General Wood and Governor Lowden have occupied, in succession, the spotlight of momentary leadership in the race.

The Californian's arrival today was perfectly timed with regard to the acceptance of his candidacy in the last two days. Indications were that he plans a Rooseveltian whirlwind finish in an effort to keep up the momentum until the convention meets Tuesday.

POLITICAL DOPE DOLED OUT ABOUT REP. CONVENTION

WOULD HAVE DEADLOCK OF THREE LEADERS ON THIRD BALLOT—THEN SHIFTING WILL BEGIN
(By United Press)

Chicago, June 3—Long shots looked like even money gamble in the advance chatter peddled along the presidential row here today, for the start of the presidential derby here next week.

"Dope sheets" had it that the race would be a free-for-all guess with a flock of dark horses hugging the inside track.

Official chatters concede Senator Hiram Johnson, Major General Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden were early favorite dopesters, predicting that the break will come on the fifth ballot.

"None of the delegates want to make it a drag-along convention," they said. "They will begin shifting along the fifth lap."

Supporters of Senator Harding, Governor Calvin Coolidge, Senator Miles Poindexter, Herbert Hoover and Nicholas Murray Butler put in bids today for nomination on the fifth ballot.

They reasoned that a combination of General Wood, Hiram Johnson and Governor Lowden would be impossible, pointing to the hard fought primaries and the sentiment therein aroused as prohibiting any line-up among these candidates.

There is not a favorite son candidate this year, campaign managers declare, that have a chance of success on the first few ballots. Supporters of Senator Harding, Senator Miles Poindexter, Governor Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Nicholas Murray Butler, said that their delegates would remain loyal until the nomination was made, anticipating a deadlock on the third ballot, and hoping to start a stampede.

NO TRADE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

THIS IS DECISION OF U. S. GOVERNMENT BECAUSE IT WOULD INVOLVE POLITICAL RELATIONS

A. L. BRADFORD
(Written for the United Press)

Washington, June 3—The U. S. government has dismissed all thought of trade with soviet Russia in the near future, it was learned today.

There is no prospect that the embargo on shipments from the U. S. to bolshevik Russia will be lifted, it was given out by officials who know President Wilson's mind on the question.

The allies' agreement to allow trade through the Russian cooperative socialists, was not accepted by this government, because it was held to involve relations with the soviet government.

When the allies plan was rejected by U. S. Under Secretary of State Polk, proposed to the allied governments that unrestricted trade be allowed with soviet Russia at the risk of traders. It was agreed that this plan would head off the propaganda of Lenin and Trotsky, and show that soviet Russia was boycotted.

President Wilson and Secretary of State Colby are understood to have taken this attitude on the question.

CITY'S GLORIES OF THE PAST

Adrianople, Today Only Geographical-ly Important, Was Once Metropolis of a Great Empire.

If Adrianople cannot boast as long and romantic a story as Constantinople, she can point to the days when she was the metropolis of one of the greatest empires the world has ever known.

The foundations of her greatness were laid some 1,800 years ago by Hadrian, one of the greatest of Roman emperors, who built palaces and temples there of a splendor such as eastern Europe had never known. And she soon promised to eclipse her great rival on the Bosphorus, though that city had already been a world-famous capital for 700 years.

During the centuries that followed her imperial cradling, Adrianople lived through exciting and perilous times. Less than 200 miles from Constantinople, she shared much of the turbulent life of which that coveted city was center. In the fifth century we see her fighting fiercely against Attila's savage hordes until her streets ran red with blood. Again and again she fought no less valiantly and stubbornly against the raiding Bulgarians.

We see her in furious battle with Persians and Avars, and she sent her sons under the banner of Heraclius, to wage war against the Saracens. Thus the turbulent tide of Adrianople's history rolls on through the centuries, storm-tossed and tinged with blood.

But the Byzantine empire, which had seen over 1,000 years of stirring life, at last came to its end. The Turkish tide, which had swept to the eastern shore of the Bosphorus, and now sought to swamp Europe, proved much too strong for the dying empire to resist; and in 1361 we see the soldiers of Amurath pouring into Adrianople, and the sultan installing himself in the city.

Thus, after more than 1,200 years, the city Hadrian had founded blossomed into the capital of a new and alien empire, which was soon to spread itself further than the empire it had succeeded. Within a few generations Amurath's successor, Suleiman the Magnificent, was ruling over more than twenty races of men in three continents. Of this old-time magnificence few traces remain.

Lincoln Knew

The words which he uttered over half a century ago are as true now as then, and should be an inspiration to all Americans. Ponder well what he said in addressing the Workmen's Association in 1864:

"PROPERTY is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

Any seeker for leadership, either industrial or political, now or in the future, must be guided by this truth.

New Insurance Idea.

The British woolen and worsted industries are proposing a scheme whereby the employees in those industries shall contract out of the national unemployment insurance bill, at present under consideration in the house of commons, by devising a scheme of their own. There are in the northern countries area of the wool textile trade, it is assumed, about 200,000 men, youths, women and girls over the age of sixteen years (those under sixteen do not come under the unemployment insurance scheme), and allowing for contributions by employers similar to those under the national unemployment insurance bill, plus one-tenth contribution by the state, it is estimated that there will be available for extra benefits over and above what are provided for under the state scheme the sum of $591,980.

Real Automatic Phonograph.

The much abused term "automatic" can be applied with full justice to a new and highly ingenious phonograph. This versatile instrument plays as many as 40 records, one after another in order, selects any record indicated, allows intervals between selections of ten seconds to half an hour, repeats if desired, and stops at any predetermined point, according to Popular Mechanics. When the machine is started, an arm rolls the first record out of the rack and in front of the turntable, where a plunger centers it.

Food—the Problem of the Hour

THE need for food has the world in its grip. To produce more food we must depend upon gasoline power on the farm to multiply the efficiency of the man-power available.

The following interesting comparison of man-power vs. machine-power, required per acre is illuminating:

Crop (Acre)	Man-Hours By Hand	Man-Hours By Machine
Barley	64	4.25
Corn	39	7.70
Cotton	168	79
Hay	21	8.45
Oats	66	4.25
Potatoes	169	38
Rice	62	17
Rye	63	4.25
Wheat	61	4.25

The United States has changed from an agricultural into a semi-industrial nation. Never again will it see the day when 97 percent of its population dwells on farms. Yet the fact remains that the United States must feed itself, and the only way this can be done is through intensive soil cultivation, made possible by automotive machinery.

On the farms of the Middle West the gasoline tractor, truck, and automobile are multiplying the productivity of man-power, and are doing their part in furnishing an adequate supply of food-stuffs.

Throughout this great section the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed a system of distribution which insures the farmer an adequate supply of gasoline and lubricating oils. This system is based upon huge storage depots, fed from three large modern refineries.

Anticipation of possible difficulties is but one of the many burdens the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) assumes in order that consumers of the Middle West may have their wants supplied.

JUNE WEDDINGS ARE RECORDED SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallin of Nisswa
Pleasantly Surprised on Saturday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallin, of Nisswa, were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening last, May 29th by the driving in of a number of automobile loads of neighbors all in a string followed up later by others; besides some on foot and some with horse-rigs, who called to celebrate their silver wedding.

There were between 60 and 70 people present. Refreshments suitable for such an occasion were brought in abundance and a truly enjoyable evening was spent. The beautiful, warm and moonlight evening contributed much to the social enjoyment. In addition to the many good wishes expressed for the host and hostess and the flowers presented the guests left the means to purchase later something appropriate, durable and that would be appreciated as a memorial of the occasion.

The spirit of good-will and general neighborly feeling that prevailed is certainly a token of good for the future of the community.

Peterson-Nelson

Miss Gladys Alger Peterson, daughter of O. A. Peterson, was married Wednesday at high noon to James J. Nelson, the English ring service of the Lutheran church being used, Rev. M. L. Hostager officiating, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, 793 North Seventh street.

The bride looked pretty and charming in pale pink and white embroidered voile, with corsage bouquet of sweet peas and roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Hazel A. Peterson, gowned in white. The best man was J. H. Levin of Minneapolis.

A five course wedding dinner followed at the home of the bride, the guests being immediate friends and relatives. Assisting in serving were Mrs. C. A. Stadlbauer, Mrs. Henry E. Stein, Mrs. J. H. Levin. The rooms of the home and the table were beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Levin of Minneapolis. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon at the Peterson cottage at Gull lake and will then go to Stephen, being at home to their friends there after July 1. The bride was a supervisor of music in Stephen schools and has a large circle of friends there and in Brainerd. The bridegroom is a promising young business man, being the cashier of the First National bank of Stephen.

Their many friends extend to them best wishes for their continued happiness and prosperity.

Widstrom-Potter

(Clearwater News)

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Widstrom when their daughter, Alvina, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Robert J. Potter of Brainerd. Miss Blanche Potter, a sister of the bridegroom, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Widstrom, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

The bride was charmingly dressed in white messaline and georgette gown with veil. She wore a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid was attired in white satin and carried lilies of the valley.

The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. About fifty guests were present. Many beautiful gifts were received by the bridal couple, including silver ware and cut glass.

The bride is a charming young lady having taught the past four years in Minneapolis and has made scores of friends there. The groom is a well known and prosperous young man of Brainerd, his home being there.

Motors Displace Mules

The First cavalry, stationed at Nogales, Ariz., has abandoned mules in favor of motor equipment, but the change is not so revolutionary at it sounds, because you can swear just as fluently at a balky car as you can at a stubborn quadruped. And it goes just as much good.—The Home Sector.

FABRICS TO FIT SUMMER TIME

Lace Will Be Prominent: Silks
Are to Prevail for the Smartest Blouses.

BLACK FAVORED FOR DRESSES

Color Is Brightened by Flowers and Fruits in Vivid Hues—Semi-
Evening Dress Makes Appearance.

Already there is promise of a summer during which distinctly summery materials will be used in our clothes. In recent years observes a prominent fashion writer, it has appeared that dressmakers were determined to use velvet and cloth in the models that they made for mid-summer. This spring's fashions require quantities of laces, organdies and taffetas—materials associated with warm days.

Back of it all is the Spanish influence, which is accountable for the extensive use of laces and other lingerie materials as well as crisp silks. The great demand for laces created by the new models has caused havoc in the lace manufacturing districts of France, unprepared as they were for this onslaught.

Lace is playing no small part in blouses. At the opening of the autumn season the use of handsome metal brocades, metal embroideries and beaded materials was apparent. With the advent of spring the elaborate blouse has grown lighter in weight and the lace trimmed and lace blouse takes precedence over all others.

Plain skirts of dark cloth are topped by lace blouses and the whole costume completed by a cape or loose coat of the cloth to carry out the three-piece idea which still holds a prominent place in fashions. These blouses extend over the hips in long-waisted effect and some are draped to curve slightly at the waistline.

Little Sashes and Short Sleeves.

Little sashes, which may be cut in one piece with the front or start from the underarm seams, are youthful appendages on these blouses, although it is a matter of personal taste as to whether one shall wear sashes or not. Sleeves are short, in almost every instance ending above the elbow. There are, however, a few long-sleeved blouses.

Among the most charming are those developed in black Chantilly lace. An excellent model, in which tucked organdie is combined with black Chantilly, shows the body of the blouse formed of the tucked organdie and the shoulder-cape collar, front panel and a low hanging girde ending in a bow across the back made of the black lace. The girde is wired to hold it in perfect shape. The black and white effect is accentuated through the introduction of a slender necktie and tiny line girde of crisp green taffeta.

A blouse trimmed with hand-run Isabella lace is of a pale rose crepe georgette. The lace forms a bertha which surrounds the low, round neck. The sleeves, in bell shape, reach to the wrists and have double rows of lace insertion. Over the hips are little godet flares of the same sheer lace.

Blouses of Vivid Silks.

Silk printed in the most primitive designs and colors appears in many of the smartest blouses. Sometimes in making a handsome blouse these printed figures are given added color by being outlined in an embroidery stitch. One model is of a silk showing the adaptation of the flora of the Balkans, in peasant colors, printed on an ivory background.

The waist is finished with a weighted girde made of strands of artificial silk drawn through slot-like buttons.

notes. Similar effects are used for banding spring hats and also for making headresses. On very dressy costumes these girles are sometimes made of the fronds of ostrich feathers knotted into long strings, with multiple strands massed to form the girle.

Blouses often take the vest form with side lapping front. These have big buttons and buttonholes and either false or real pockets. A typical model has a woven pattern showing little dancing figures forming stripes or bands. All edges of the bolero are bound with satin or ribbon. The round neck and the short sleeves are finished with double frills of knife-plaited linen.

Among the lace dresses black is the favorite color. These have tiers of blouses from waistlines to hem on either side of the skirt, the front and back remaining perfectly plain. No trimming is placed on the bodice.

Dinner Dress Having Tunic of Ivory Colored Tulle Hand Embroidered in Metal Threads Over a Plaited Underskirt of Chiffon. The Bodice of Coral Colored Taffeta Has No Fastening But Slips on Over Head.

There is usually, however, a bit of very bright color introduced into these black dresses through some trimming at the waistline. One has a cluster of green grapes hanging from the belt. Another has a wreath of scarlet flowers going over the shoulder and girdling the waist, while a third is sashed with wide black ribbon embroidered in red flowers.

Innumerable dancing frocks are in ecaille or blond tulle. Ecaille is an exquisite shade which is neither brown nor yellow, but exactly like some of the tones in a tortoise shell, from which it takes its name. It is also the color of certain shades of blond hair.

A wonderfully attractive model developed in blond tulle has thirteen tiny ruffles, each one bordered with a delicate gold embroidery. These ruffles pass in slightly undulating waves around the front and sides of the skirt, but the back is perfectly plain. The new feature in the waist is the panel in the back, which forms a perfect square, coming up like the lid of a box. It is held in place by tightly drawn shoulder straps of gold cord attached to the points of the surplice front. The waistline is drawn in quite snugly by means of a tiny gold cord.

Petal Skirts of Great Charm

A number of charming dancing dresses have the entire skirt made of petals of roses, dark brown or black, on self-tone tulle foundations. The result is a dress made of petals, but in no way looking like a flower dress. It gives more the effect of a ruffled skirt than of anything else and is wonderfully attractive.

Similar effects are worked out in dresses of pink metal gauze. The bodices topping these petal skirts are extremely plain, sometimes entirely devoid of trimming.

The fluffy appearance of such costumes is made even more pronounced by voluminous scarfs of tulle. These scarfs are also worn with the more sedate type of evening dress, and frequently the colors are in striking contrast to the dress. For instance, a scarf of brilliant blue may accompany a dress of rose color.

Semi-Evening Dress Adopted.

Evening dresses are cut so low in the back and have become so very elaborate that women hesitate to don these except on very formal occasions, and for this reason have adopted the semi-evening dresses. The elaborate models for evening wear are quite scandalously décollete, the bodices being nothing more than a garniture of embroidery and beads harmonizing with the skirt and shoulder straps.

Semi-evening dresses have great use in one's wardrobe, as they may be worn in the late afternoon as well as evening and are very suitable for dining in public places. Women feel more comfortable in such dresses when dining in public than they do in those that are extremely décollete.

Metal embroidered ecaille lace is used for evening costumes, either as a drapery or for entire skirts.

Stone Used as Barometer.

There is in the northern part of Finland a curious stone which serves the people instead of a barometer. This stone, which the Finns call Ilmakuuri, turns black or a blackish gray when bad weather is approaching. Fine weather has the effect of turning it almost white. The Finns regard the stone with superstitious reverence, but the scientists say that its changes in color are due to salts contained in its composition.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

300 STUMPS AND OLD TREES BLOWN UP

(Minnesota Land-Clearing Train)

Northome, June 2—Some three hundred stumps and some old trees which marred the beauty and interfered with the usefulness of the fair grounds at Northome today jumped into the air, impelled by dynamite, or were dragged out by the roots, attached to a caterpillar tractor. The work was that of the Minnesota Land-Clearing train's crews. As a result of the work the people are saying nice things about the train and its staff of land-clearers.

The train arrived at Northome yesterday in a pouring rain. Farmers from miles out in the country had come in to see the demonstration, however, and the management of the train decided not to disappoint them. The land-clearers unloaded their equipment and did some real land-clearing in spite of the continuous shower. One hundred or more men, men of the kind that is pushing the stump and brush line back toward the Canadian border, looked on with great interest.

The train arrived at Northome yesterday, and in the evening got together, deciding to clean up the fair grounds, with which the fair board had wrestled for several years, and not without a good deal of discouragement.

Last Saturday in this city, The Gruenhagen Co., with the co-operation of the manufacturers and jobbers of their line of goods, pulled off an advertising stunt that was as effective as it was new and novel, in the shape of a drawing contest. A large number of useful prizes donated by the manufacturers and jobbers and the Gruenhagen Co., were placed on exhibition and will be given away free to every ticket holder, who registered in their store on the opening day last Saturday. 1954 families registered and each ticket will receive a prize.

The job was one which called for the use of dynamite, and the work was placed under the direction of A. W. Wilson of the Hercules Powder Co. and of G. G. Means of the Du Pont Powder Co. These two men this morning organized their forces, loaded stumps in great groups, set their fuses, and then began firing. Over in town the windows rattled and shook and it sounded as if a bombardment was on. To an eye witness it looked as if the stumps were being popped like great grains of corn. They jumped, split open and fell.

By 11 a. m. the stumps were all out of the ground and by noon they were in neat piles, the piling being the work of the townspeople and farmers—ready for burning. A full five acres were cleared.

The women of the Highland Farmers' club served refreshments. The train left soon after for Little Fork. It will finish its third week at Guthrie on Saturday, spend Sunday in Bemidji, and then move to Leonard on Monday, to Hackensack on Wednesday, to Pequot on Friday, and to Aitkin on Saturday, June 12.

There passed through the store at least 5000 people, and they report as many more in the machinery department. Although stating in their advertisements and circulars that no sales would be solicited they report that the machinery department sold over $1100, and the cash received on merchandise sold in the store was $1285.56.

Nothing Pastime. We should never speak of anything as pastime, because it means that we are doing the act in question for the sole purpose of squandering time. Every moment of our lives should be devoted to such pursuits as will build up our bodies and minds, our spiritual and material interests, and prepare us to discern opportunity when it comes, to the end that we make our lives full of satisfaction to ourselves and a blessing to the world in which we live.—Exchange

The Milk Bottle Only. Should County Times: "The first duty of the American people is to prepare the youth of the land for the battle of life. Boston Transcript

The store opened at 8 a. m. and there were fourteen people waiting to register.

The demonstration was equal in drawing power to the average county fair, as practically every farmer within a radius of 18 miles was brought to the city, in addition to the local residents who attended.

Ed. Gruenhagen, general superintendent of the machinery department, assisted by a squad of salesmen from the factories, made a most wonderful display of machinery.

A colored orchestra was driven around the city on a tractor advertising the opening and drawing contest. The music and singing of these people held the crowd in front of the store until 10:15 p. m. and everybody seemed to be happy and enjoying themselves.

The Gruenhagen Co., have arranged for a five days discount sale during which the prizes may be called for.

The Gruenhagen Co. extend their sincere thanks to the public at large for the splendid spirit and interest that has taken in the event and especially to the salesmen, manufacturers and jobbers, in bringing about the results.

Illuminating Graves.

Two days annually are observed in illuminating the graves of the Central cemetery of Vienna. This burying place, while comparatively modern, is regarded as one of the two most beautiful in the world. The illuminating ceremony occurs on Ascension day and on the anniversary of the burning of the Ring theater in 1881, when many fell victims to the flames. When stationary lamp posts of midge size are at the sides of a plot, these are lighted, but those not equipped depend upon the bereaved ones who still remain to mourn them to carry lighted candles and torches as a means of illumination.

Making the Desert Cool.

An ingenious method which a thoughtful wife invented to keep her good man cool is described in Travel. She sent down from town "a quantity of canvas or burlap, which was to be strung on wires along the windward side of the veranda. The poor, panting man was to take his seat there, lightly arrayed, and spray water on the screen with a hose. The resulting evaporation would temper the breeze to a fair degree of comfort." The burlap-and-hose combination, it seems, plays a prominent part in California desert household economy.

IN BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF

Arthur B. Willing, Popular Superintendent to Leave Brainerd Gas & Electric Co. Employ

TO LOCATE NEAR ST. CLOUD

In Brainerd Built up Gas Users from No Customers to 715. In Service Here 4 Years

Arthur B. Willing, superintendent of the Brainerd Gas & Electric Co. plant in Brainerd since May 8, 1916, has severed his connection with the company to take effect June 15 and will leave Brainerd and engage in the electrical business in the vicinity of St. Cloud.

Mr. Willing came to Brainerd when the mains of the company measured 10 miles. Today the mileage has increased to 13. He came when the plant had no gas users and he leaves 715 patrons and gas installation being added to ten additional homes this week. He sold practically every gas stove used by patrons.

The multifarious duties of Mr. Willing were not those of a superintendent who merely holds down a desk job. They included such things as general manager, superintendent, salesman, pipe fitter, trouble man, gas maker, coal unloader, tar pusher coupled with a diplomatic nature and fund of conversation which would appease an angry patron who believed she had a complaint.

Mr. Willing and his estimable wife enjoyed a wide acquaintance in Brainerd and took part in much of the social life of the city, and their many friends regret seeing them leave and extend to them their best wishes for prosperity in their new location.

Clerk Changes

Miss Elsie Carlson, efficient bookkeeper and office assistant of the company since 1916, leaves the employ of the company and will be succeeded by Miss Vivian McPherran. Miss Carlson also possessed in the highest degree tact, patience and ability and her ready smile will be missed. Miss McPherran, her successor, was stenographer at the Chamber of Commerce and previously graduated from the business department of the local high school.

Chemicals Extracted From Seaweed

Dr. J. W. Turrentine of the department of agriculture, in addressing the spring meeting of the American Chemical society at St. Louis, said that before long America would be independent of foreign countries for iodine and bleaching carbon and to a large extent for potash.

Dr. Turrentine further stated that the seaweed which grows in abundance on the Pacific coast can be made a part of a profitable industry in the making of potash. About 29 products and by-products and derivatives have been obtainable from kelp, some of which have commercial value and are obtainable in large quantities and at small cost.

Products of common use obtained from kelp are ammonia, table salt, creosote, pitch, combustible gas and Prussian blue.

Growth of Museum of Art

The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Metropolitan Museum of Art recalls much that is interesting in the early history of the museum, which was incorporated April 13, 1870, and whose opening reception was held on Feb. 20 1872, says the New York Evening Sun.

The museum came into being by raising $250,000 for all purposes including the purchase of works of art of every description, as well as the maintenance of the institution. Today one article of one collection, the Rosapigliosi cup of Benvenuto Cellini, is valued at this sum, while the value of the collection as a whole cannot even be estimated.

CROSBY PLAYS BRAINERD SUNDAY

Great Game Scheduled for Koering Grounds 3 P. M. on June 6, A Battle Royal Staged

LARGE RANGE CROWD COMING

Crosby so Far Has Won Every Game It Played, Has Long String of Victories on Belt

One of the greatest ball games of the season, a real battle, is staged between Brainerd and Crosby at the Koering grounds Sunday afternoon June 6, at 3 o'clock.

Crosby started its playing season early and has the scalps of all its opponents at its belt. One of the latest to be gathered in was Ironton on Memorial Day, which Crosby defeated 9 to 2. It was nearly a shut-out, Putt Russ by his home run saving Ironton from that ignominy.

Bemidji was beaten by an overwhelming score. Up to the eighth inning Bemidji had been ahead and then some argument arose over an umpire's ruling and the Bemidji pitcher "got cold" while the affair was discussed. He stepped in the box in the ninth inning and Crosby started hitting. They busted the fence with their clouts and won the game.

International Falls was defeated in two games by decisive scores. The showing of the season has made Crosby very chesty and about all the town and most of Ironton are coming down Sunday to see the battle.

Brainerd is not saying much, but it has a well-oiled baseball machine which works like a six cylinder engine with every valve ringing true and every spark hitting. Brainerd has stars, but they know how to merge their work with their team mates and to pull together. The two games played in Brainerd this season with Ironton and South St. Paul were quickly played and were entirely free from any wrangle. And when Brainerd hits the ball it's no scratch hit but squarely, fairly on the nose.

SURVEYS

U. S. Survey Experts are not found in every state. Minnesota has one; his name is John W. Curo and he lives at Brainerd. He is not an agent of the government but an ex-civil engineer to the General Land Office of the United States and just now County Surveyor of Crow Wing county.

When not employed at home, Mr. Curo will assist the various surveyors throughout the state in re-establishing lost government corners and other difficult survey problems, in which capacity he will travel as an expert.

To Henry I. Cohen, John Carlson and other good fellows, has been delegated the gentle task of instructing Attorney Crippen in the arts of Isaac Walton and leading him to the bass-infested haunts.

Supposed Paupers Misers.

Many paupers who begged for a livelihood were found after their death to have possessed enormous wealth. A notorious case is that of Jean Baptiste Rotaean, who died in a gypsy camp outside of Paris, after begging for 20 years. Gripped tightly in his hand was found the key to a strong box in a Paris bank. The box contained $100,000 in gold, notes and securities—all the property of this beggar.

Before the recent world war there died in a Berlin garret Herr Schwarz, known to his neighbors as one of the poorest of the poor. He sallied out daily into the fashionable quarters of the city, garbed in filthy rags and carrying a sack in which he collected crusts and other scraps of food. When he died there was found in his wretched quarters $400,000, mostly in gold, concealed in jars and bottles, and in bank notes, which served as stuffing for his bed.

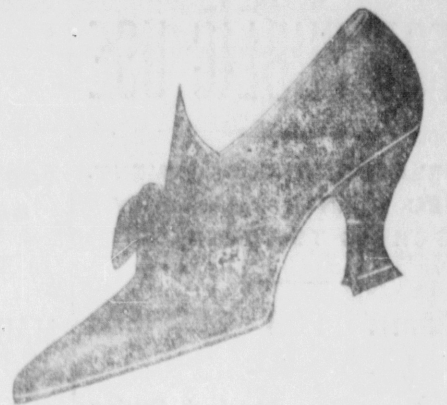

Samuel Rogers lived the life of a tramp at Long Branch, N. J., and used to walk from that city to New York to bank his money. He left $50,000, although he always considered himself too poor to buy food or clothing. He encased his feet in old pieces of burlap and ate whatever he could find, even to apple cores and crusts from the street.

RADIO STATIONS FOR PUBLIC USE

BILL RELATING TO GOVERNMENT-OWNED PLANTS FAVORABLY REPORTED TO CONGRESS.

NECESSARY FOR BUSINESS

Private Enterprise, Checked During the War, Might Be Unable to Meet Communication Requirements of Immediate Future.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Congress in all probability will authorize the use of government-owned radio stations by the general public. A bill for such authorization has been reported favorably by the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries after exhaustive hearings. Prior to the outbreak of the world war, radio operation and the use of radio apparatus on ships and on land within our jurisdiction were governed by the act of congress entitled "an act to regulate radio communication," approved August 13, 1912, and by the provision of the international radiotelegraph convention, more commonly known as the London convention, which took effect by proclamation of the president on July 8, 1913, and by regulations made pursuant thereto.

By the terms of this act of congress, every person, company or corporation within the jurisdiction of the United States was required to make application for and to obtain a license from the secretary of commerce as a condition precedent to using and operating radio apparatus as a means of communication among the several states or with foreign countries, or upon any vessel of the United States engaged in interstate or foreign commerce. This act required that every such license should provide that the president of the United States, in time of war or public peril or disaster, might cause the closing of any apparatus, or might authorize the use or control of any such station or apparatus by any department of the government, upon just compensation to the owners.

Seized or Closed During the War.
Following the declaration of war with the German government, the president issued a proclamation under date of April 6, 1917, ordering that all such radio stations, within the jurisdiction of the United States, as were required for naval communications, should be taken over by the government and used and controlled by it to the exclusion of any other control or use, and that all radio stations not necessary to the government for naval communications should be closed. The enforcement of this order was delegated to the secretary of the navy. Later, under date of April 30, 1917, a further proclamation was issued by the president to the like purpose and effect. Acting under this authority, the navy department took possession of many ship-to-shore stations located upon the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and upon the Great Lakes and elsewhere, and various high-powered stations, and caused the closing of others. The department subsequently purchased from the Marconi company all its ship-to-shore stations.

By an act of congress, approved July 11, 1919, the president was directed to return to the respective owners the telegraph, telephone, marine cable or radio systems taken possession and assumed control of by him under chapter 154 of the acts of the second session of the Sixty-fifth congress. It was assumed at the time that the radio stations would be returned to their owners under this act and preliminary arrangements were made therefor, but the purpose was not effected and the navy department continued in the control and operation of the private radio stations taken over, and continued to require other private stations to remain closed, its action apparently being based on the ground that this resolution was not the authority for the taking over of the radio stations, but that the authority was contained in the act of 1912, to which repealing act of the Sixty-fifth congress did not refer.

Restored to Their Owners.

Continued agitation for the return of the stations to private operation and for permission to reopen the stations which were closed, resulted in an executive order of February 13, 1920, by which all stations taken over by the government were ordered restored to their owners as of midnight, February 29, 1920, and all stations closed were permitted to be opened by the private owners as of that date.

The fact that for a considerable period private enterprise had been excluded from active participation in the business of radio communication and the further fact that most of the ship-to-shore stations along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and on the Great Lakes had been purchased and were owned and operated by the navy department, gave rise to the fear that private enterprise would be unable to meet adequately the communication requirements of the present and immediate future if the navy wholly and immediately withdrew from the field, and it was urged that legislation is necessary in order to permit the facilities of the navy department to be utilized for purely commercial and private purposes by the shipping and business interests of the country.

WAR ARTICLES BEING REVISED

CODE OF MILITARY JUSTICE TO BE ALTERED SO IT WILL BE MORE UP TO DATE.

MAIN CHANGES TO BE MADE

New Regulations Designed to Obviate Trials on Trivial Charges and to Insure Justice for the Accused Persons.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—A revision of the articles of war is now under way. The senate and house committees on military affairs are in substantial agreement as to the changes that shall be made in the present articles. A bill embodying the proposed changes has been reported favorably by the house committee.

Following are the salient features of the revision:

1. A charge must be preferred under oath, by any person subject to military law.
2. Speedy but thorough and impartial preliminary investigation will be had in all cases.
3. Under the proposed revision commanding officers will be brought more frequently into personal contact with alleged offenders.
4. Disciplinary punishments, properly limited, are preferred to trial.
5. Neither trial nor punishment on trivial charges, no action by a court when disciplinary action is sufficient, no trial by either special or general court-martial when an inferior court can properly dispose of the case.

Junior Officers Affected.

6. Junior officers made subject to disciplinary punishment as well as enlisted men.
7. Punishing power of summary courts reduced to one month, in order the sooner to return offenders to a duty status.

8. Summary and special courts' power of forfeiture reduced to two-thirds of soldier's monthly pay in order that funds for laundry, toilet necessities, etc., may be available.

9. Maximum limitations of membership in court in special and general courts-martial removed, to prevent technical reversals in some cases; not to increase the size of courts, as quality is more important than quantity.

10. All members of the various courts to be the best available for the duty—age, training and judicial temperament considered.

11. Law member of general courts-martial provided.
12. The right to counsel fully recognized. Defense counsel and assistant defense counsel, when needed, provided.

13. The oath of the trial judge advanced is changed to insert an allegation to faithfully and impartially perform his duty.

14. Provides for one peremptory challenge for each side, the law member, however, being subject to challenge only for cause.

15. Embodies in statutory form the existing practice requiring reference to a staff judge advocate for his action and advice before referring charges to a general court-martial or acting on the proceedings thereof.

Unanimous Vote for Death.

16. Death sentence to require a unanimous vote of the court.

17. For convictions other than death, two-thirds vote instead of a majority required.

18. Acquittals to be announced by the court.

19. No recommendation of acquittals, and no increase of sentence on revision or new trial.

20. Certain convictions, under regulations, to be announced by the court.
21. The proposed revision authorizes the president to prescribe limits of punishment in time of war as well as in time of peace.

22. Provisions for an adequate legal review of all trials by general courts-martial and for effective appellate power.

23. Provides that persons not subject to military law, who commit acts in connection with any court-martial, made punishable by the provisions of chapter six of the act of March 4, 1909. United States statutes at large, shall be punished as provided in said act.

During the war and since its close there has been much controversy regarding the system of military justice as administered in the armies. Some of the critics have overlooked the fact that the articles of war were revised only four years ago. However no thorough consideration at that time could be given the matter, at least by the house, and as it was thought the adoption of the proposed revision would meet the requirements at that time it was enacted into law. Since the close of the war attention has been frequently called to the fact that the present code is archaic and out of date; that we have not kept pace with other nations in such matters, and that we were going too far back into the past for our plan of administering military justice.

Suspicious.
